SQUARE OF STATEMENT

Youth Declaration by

YUWALAYA

Youth are a powerful agent of change. The Intergenerational Youth Dialogue and Youth in Digital Era- Digital Rights Activism and Security came up with the Youth Declaration by Yuwalaya. We hereby declare the following statements:

Intergenerational Youth Dialogue (Activity No. 178)

- Since the intersectional youth issues and youths from diverse background are not experiencing inclusivity in all forum and spaces of life, diverse youth participation must be ensured by all individuals, stakeholders and the civil society organizations.
- Each generation of youths experience different issues, survive in different worlds and deserve youth friendly settings, the potentials of youths of all generations can never be underdetermined. Youths deserve participations, recognitions and leaderships. The civil society organizations should recognize the change power and drive youths steps for change.
- Harmful social norms and practices are barriers to facilitating intergenerational youth dialogue between youth and senior citizens on social issues considered taboos such as discrimination against women during menstruation, LGBTIQ communities while, "coming out", inter-caste marriage, and the like. Hence community education education program should be at the forefront of policy-making to tackle harmful social norms and practices.
- Youth should be able to participate in politics. Their political leadership is indispensable in creating an enabling environment for tackling issues concerning youth.
- Youth should adapt a collective approach considering the youth of diverse backgrounds addressing the issues of youths.

Youth in Digital Era- Digital Rights, Activism and Security (Activity No. 179)

- Digital platform creates a space where resistance against inequalities, injustice and hesimony can thrive. Hence, youths should be capacitated on digital literacy to ensure safety and security on the digital platforms.
- Campaigns against misinformation, disinformation and hate speech should be mainstreamed into digital activism.

"In harnessing the collective power of our voices, ideas, and actions, let us forge ahead fearlessly, knowing that the future belongs to us, the youth and that our intergenerational dialogue will shape the world we inherit tomorrow. By bridging the gap between generations, we can cultivate a collaborative approach to addressing challenges and maximizing the opportunities presented by digital age"
